OUTDOOR SPORTS.

Seventh Annual Field Day of the Athletic Club.

Fully Fifteen Hundred People Present, Including Many Ladies.

All of the Events Well Filled and Very Warmly Contested.

Much Interest Manifested in the Bicycle Races—Good Time Made by the Sprinters—The Names of the Winners.

Despite the threatening aspect of the weather fully 1500 people, of whom at least one-third were ladies, witnessed the field sports held at its new grounds by the Los Angeles Athletic Club yesterday afternoon on the occasion of its seventh annual field day. The grand stand, which had been reserved for the ladies and their escorts, was not over-crowded and presented an attractive appearance.

There were more vehicles on the grounds than had ever been admitted within its inclosures on any previous occasion, the line of carriages extending from the draw-gates to the kindergarten, where they were bunched three and four deep.

The day's sport was very interesting throughout, and at times the enthusiasm of the spectators reached fever heat. The only kick heard was that registered by a few people, who had no interest in the games, as to the length of the programme and the time which each event would take.

The club vault, which incited lots of enthusiasm, fell to W. W. Weller, who cleared 8 feet 6 inches, A. C. Way being second with 8 feet.

THE CLUB HANDICAP.

The 220 yards club handicap was one of the closest contests of the day. The starters were Howard and Benjamin, scratch, and R. E. Alcorn ten yards.

The race went off very fast, Alcorn making the pace a scorcher, but Howard came with a magnificent burst and just got in by a hand's breadth. Time, 24 seconds. This lowers Gurd's record by three-tenths of a second.

THE MILE SAFETY.

Five competitors mounted their silent steeds for the mile safety race, Jenkins, Muller, Hodgeson and Burke, and as it was growing dusky they were all sent away together. Burke assumed the lead, but before the end of the first lap Muller went to the front. In the second lap, however, an unfortunate accident occurred. Stewart, in forcing to the front, collided with Burke, who was then overtaken by Muller, thus knocking both men out. Stewart, who did not fall, then took the lead, but in the last lap Jenkins came in with a rush and beat him out by about three yards. Time, 2:53 4-5 (within five seconds of the Coast record.)

THE 880-YARD HANDICAP.

The second event, the mile safety (3:15 class), attracted considerable attention, as the six competitors, W. M. Jenkins, L.A.W.; S. G. Spier, L.A.W.; Ernest Gatenbury, A. I. Stewart, B.C.W.; T. Q. Hall, L.A.W., and H. B. Cromwell, L.A.W., were considered to be very evenly matched.

First heat.—The three brat started for the first heat, but Jenkins soon went to the front and stayed there with Spier trailing him, and Gatenbury lying a couple of lengths in the rear. The order was maintained for two laps, when Gatenbury made a spurt and went to the front. He did not last long, however, and as they passed the stand for the last time Jenkins was again in the lead, with Spier at his hind wheel. The latter began to move up as they passed the bleachers and at the turn shot to the front, and peddling away from Jenkins won easily by three lengths. Time, 3:00 4-5.

Second heat.—When the other trio was sent off, Stewart took the lead and held it for a good recording one, the result being that he was never challenged by his opponents, and won easily from Hall, who disposed of Cromwell in the last lap. Time, 2:55.

Final heat.—Stewart shot to the front as the quartette passed the stand for the first time, and as before made the pace a killing one. Spier, however, stuck right at his wheel, while Jenkins and Hall brought up the rear in dangerous proximity. This order was maintained until the last lap, when Spier and Jenkins crept up on Stewart, and all three made a final spurt together at the head of the stretch. The finish was a wildly exciting one, and the crowd was wild, and in three sections, each shouting a different name as that of the victor. After a long consultation, the judges decided in favor of Jenkins, but a protest was made subsequently, and it being shown that Jenkins had left the track to cut across the last corner, he was disqualified, and the race awarded to Spier. Stewart taking second place. Time 2:57.

THE 100-YARDS OPEN RACE.

An intense interest was manifested in the third event, the 100-yards open race, which was sandwiched in between the second and final heats of the "safety." The competitors were R. J. Hancock, O.A.C.; S. H. Jackson, F. H. Smith, P.A.C.; B. A. Benjamin, L.A.A.C., and C. V. Howard, L.A.A.C.

After one false start, for which the last two named men were penalized a yard each, the quintette jumped off in a splendid style. Howard soon ran through his field, however, and after making the pace, won by two feet from Benjamin, who came with a burst in the last twenty yards. Time, 10 4-5 seconds.

RUNNING HIGH JUMP.

The running high jump was not particularly exciting, although there were five competitors: R. J. Hancock, O.A.C.; W. J. Blesner, T. V.; Joe Long, L.A.A.C.; A. Brauer, T. V., and E. W. Hoppested, L.A.A.C. It was won by Hancock, at 5 feet and 4 inches, Blesner being second at 4 feet 11 1/2 inches.

THE 440-YARDS RACE.

The next event the 440 yards run, proved a foregone conclusion for Charley Howard, who made all the running and won with the greatest of ease. Smith, the Pasadenaan, beat Alcorn out for second place. Time 56 seconds.

BURDLE RACE.

The 120-yard hurdle race which followed proved a "cinch" for B. A. Benjamin, who won handily from Chapman and Hoppested in 19 seconds, an improvement over his previous record of 1 and 1-3 seconds.

THE HALF-MILE SAFETY.

There were eight starters for the half-mile safety race: W. M. Jenkins, L.A.W.; A. I. Stewart, B.C.W.; G. F. Muller, M.A.C.; D. L. Burke, L.A.W.; S. G. Spier, L.A.W.; A. E. Hodgeson, T. Q. Hall, L.A.W.; and H. B. Cromwell, L.A.W.

First Heat.—Burke opened out at a terrific pace and, maintaining the lead for the whole distance, won easily in 1:20 3-5. Jenkins snatched the second place from Stewart and Muller after a pretty race.

Second heat.—Hall lead for the first lap, Spier trailing him all the way, but

LOS ANGELES, May 30, 1892.

The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the English grain trade says: "English wheats are 6d lower. Sales were moderate. The stocks of wheat and flour in Great Britain are 2,700,000 quarters. The American supply is estimated at 3,820,000 quarters. Last year there were respectively 1,430,000 and 2,287,000. This difference causes weakness. Foreign wheats also dropped 6d. California was readily taken at 3d. Corn was firm. Prices at Liverpool have risen 1d. Barley and oats were 3d lower. At today's market English and foreign wheats were 6d lower. Corn was 6d dearer."

A dispatch from Chicago says: "The Earl Fruit Company sold today 1,000 cases of apricots at $2.25; 1,000 cases of apricots at $2.05; 1,000 cases of apricots at $2.00; 1,000 cases of apricots at $1.15; Royal apricots at $3.80; Pringle at $2.00/2.00; seedling apricots at $2.50. Some in very bad order at 50c."

English apricots are suspended in this city today in consequence of Memorial Day. A few wholesale houses were open a part of the forenoon, but there was little doing.

THE MILE ORDINARY.

The mile ordinary bicycle, which brought out Burke, R. Dodson and W. Thompson, was merely a procession, the men travelling in the order named all day.

The time had been limited to 2:55, but as Burke made no effort to reach that mark, his time being 2:30 3-5, it was suspended.

P. D. Spier, the Olympia Club "crack," had the mile run off to himself, as, although James Ryu and S. Peterson started with him, the latter dropped out after running 160 yards, and the former simply jogged around to secure the second medal. Spier's performance 4:43, (within 2 1/2 seconds of the Coast record) captured the crowd, who yelled themselves hoarse.

THE POLE VAULT.

The club pole vault, which incited lots of enthusiasm, fell to W. W. Weller, who cleared 8 feet 6 inches, A. C. Way being second with 8 feet.

THE CLUB HANDICAP.

The 220 yards club handicap was one of the closest contests of the day. The starters were Howard and Benjamin, scratch, and R. E. Alcorn ten yards.

The order was maintained for two laps, when Gatenbury made a spurt and went to the front. He did not last long, however, and as they passed the stand for the last time Jenkins was again in the lead, with Spier at his hind wheel. The latter began to move up as they passed the bleachers and at the turn shot to the front, and peddling away from Jenkins won easily by three lengths. Time, 3:00 4-5 (within five seconds of the Coast record.)

THE MILE SAFETY.

Five competitors mounted their silent steeds for the mile safety race, Jenkins, Muller, Hodgeson and Burke, and as it was growing dusky they were all sent away together. Burke assumed the lead, but before the end of the first lap Muller went to the front. In the second lap, however, an unfortunate accident occurred. Stewart, in forcing to the front, collided with Burke, who was then overtaken by Muller, thus knocking both men out. Stewart, who did not fall, then took the lead, but in the last lap Jenkins came in with a rush and beat him out by about three yards. Time, 2:53 4-5 (within five seconds of the Coast record.)

THE 880-YARD HANDICAP.

The second event, the mile safety (3:15 class), attracted considerable attention, as the six competitors, W. M. Jenkins, L.A.W.; S. G. Spier, L.A.W.; Ernest Gatenbury, A. I. Stewart, B.C.W.; T. Q. Hall, L.A.W., and H. B. Cromwell, L.A.W., were considered to be very evenly matched.

First heat.—The three brat started for the first heat, but Jenkins soon went to the front and stayed there with Spier trailing him, and Gatenbury lying a couple of lengths in the rear. THE HONORED DEAD.

Memorial Day was very generally observed.

Decoration of the Graves of the Dead Comrades at the Cemetery.

Interesting Musical and Literary Exercises at Simpson Tabernacle.

Every Seat in the Large Auditorium Occupied—Eloquent Oration by Maj. J. A. Donnell—Prominent Citizens Present.

Twenty-four years ago yesterday the first memorial services in honor of the gallant heroes who sacrificed their lives in defense of the Republic, were held. In 183 different places, from Maine to California, the graves of the soldier dead were decorated, by order of Gen. John A. Logan, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. At the National Cemetery at Arlington, Va., the place of the Nation's dead, nearest to its capital, the oration of the day was delivered by Gen. James A. Garfield, afterward the Nation's martyred President. It is here that in a single tomb repose the bones of 2111 unknown soldiers gathered after the war from the fields of Bull Run and the Route to the Rappahannock.

Since that first Memorial day on the graves of the brave heroes have bloomed every 30th day of May the sweet flowers of remembrance, placed there by the hands of little children trained from infancy to revere the memory of the patriotic dead.

AT THE CEMETERIES.

The day was observed yesterday in Los Angeles with the customary ceremonies, participated in by the several Grand Army posts, details of the National Guard, the school children and citizens. The several posts and details met at their post headquarters and from thence, escorted by detachments of the National Guard, marched to the various cemeteries wherein their dead are interred.

The John A. Logan post and the Woman's Relief Corps decorated the graves at the City cemetery. A large gathering of people witnessed and took part in the ceremonies. In addition to the ritualistic service Commander William Young made an address and ex-Governor Lionel A. Sheldon delivered an oration. Comrade John Reardon, chaplain, offered prayer, after which the symbolic grave was decorated. Com. W. H. Halling officiated. A recitation by Com. P. L. Gordon followed, after which the company joined in singing "My country 'tis of thee." Miss Nana Cutler then recited very beautifully. "You Put no Flowers on my Papa's Grave." A detachment of the National Guard, under command of Co. C, with two regimental buglers, were on the ground, the first furnished the firing party, and the latter sounded taps. There were also present a number of school children, comprising classes from Temple and Sand street schools; and Miss Joy's class of the Spring street school.

The members of the Frank Bartlett Post, under Com. W. S. Butler, and the Woman's Relief Corps, President Mrs. Cowles, decorated the graves at the Evergreen cemetery. Only the ritualistic service was read. Maj. Butler making a brief address. There were about 150 members of the post and corps, who turned out a detachment of Co. A. of the National Guard, under Lieut. Steere. The bugle corps was comprised of Chaps. Ferguson and Sergt. Fitch, who also sounded taps over the grave of Lieut. John O. Williams, late of the National Guard.

The Gelicch Post, Dr. E. W. Clark, commander, with the Relief Corps, the president, Mrs. White, performed the ceremonies at the Catholic cemetery; also at the Evergreen cemetery, where members of the post are buried. Only the ritualistic service was rehearsed. Post Chaplain J. W. White offered prayer and the hymn "America" was sung.

The exercises at Rosedale cemetery were largely attended and the services were very interesting. The flag was at half mast and a representative mound, in honor of the unknown dead, was marked with a pillar draped with the National colors and surmounted by bunting. At the proper time in the services the mounds were decorated with white and blue flowers by girls of the public schools. Stanton and Gen. Crook Posts, G.A.R., and Stanton Relief Corps conducted the exercises. "Glory, Glory, Hallelujah" was sung with enthusiasm, and a duet was finely rendered by two of the ladies.

Appropriate addresses were admirably given by two little folks, Laura Cotton and Master Oscar Cotton.

Dr. J. W. Hunt, Commander of Stanton Post, spoke and was followed by Rev. W. A. Knighten.

After these brief addresses voices were freed over the representative graves and the dedicated pronounced by Rev. W. A. Knighten.

AT SIMPSON TABERNACLE.

At 1:30 p.m. the members of the various posts assembled at their several headquarters and proceeded each in a body to Sixth and Spring streets, from which point they marched up Sixth street to Hope and thence to Simpson auditorium, where the special memorial exercises were held. For an hour the people had been gathering, and when the time of the fifth and drum announced the approach of the heroes of battle, every chair from main auditorium to upper gallery—those reserved in center and front of the lower floor for the posts and corps—was occupied. The ladies of the corps met the veterans at the corner of Seventh and Hope streets, and, as the ranks fell apart, marched through and into the auditorium. They were followed by the members of the Grand Army, 250 strong. Unfortunately, the number of seats reserved proved insufficient, causing some delay in the seating of the veterans, but extra chairs were speedily secured and placed in the aisle and on the floor. The children in the audience were also seated in this emergency to come forward and sit upon the edge of the platform, in order to give place to the older people, and it happened that the gray-haired soldiers faced groups of bright-eyed boys and girls who trooped to the front in response to this request, and the front upon the floor, sat quietly through the service.

The decorations, arranged by ladies from the various relief corps, were very handsome and appropriate. The central figure was a magnificent cross of roses, fringed with delicate ferns. On either side were artistically disposed numbers of smaller pieces—a harp, a piano, a shaft of light, a match, a tablet and the symbolic vacant chair, draped with the national colors and garlanded with flowers. Opposite this piece was a beautiful tablet of pale-pink roses, and above it on a semicircle of cypress was the word "Rest" wrought in pure white flowers.

Two flags were draped across the wall.

back of the organ loft, the symbolic letters "G.A.R." at the apex in letters of red, white and blue. The beautiful marble baptismal font in front was filled with flowers. Bunting was fastened from the gallery railing and the decorations as a whole were arranged in excellent taste.

THE EXERCISES.

By the time the annual call was sounded by Comrade O. T. Thomas, chief bugler, every niche and corner of the great building was packed. On the platform was seated the orator of the day; Maj. J. A. Donnell, and J. J. Gosper, president of the day, Rev. W. A. Knighten, Rev. J. B. Holloway's Capt. Jenkins, Maj. Butler Judge B. N. Smith, Comrade J. C. Oliver and others.

Back of the platform, in the choir seats, were members of the Euterpean Quartette, Messrs. Dupuy, Lee, Williams and Wallace, who sang very beautifully. The organ loft was always welcome to the singing. "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," Mr. Williams taking the solo and the others joining in the chorus.

Prayer by Chaplain W. A. Knighten followed, and then the three Baldwin children appeared in national costume, each bearing a tiny flag and sang in their fascinating fashion a character song—"The Red, White and Blue," (composed for the occasion by the mother of the little ones,) which was so charmingly done as to call forth rapt and prolonged applause, which only ceased when the trio reappeared. They were interrupted by cheering when, in their song, the name of Sherman fell from the lips of the children.

The president of the day then made some appropriate introductory remarks which were followed by another selection from the quartette, "The Vacant Chair."

Maj. J. A. Donnell then delivered the oration of the day—a patriotic address worthy the occasion. In closing he paid a high tribute to the Woman's Relief Corps.

Another selection by the quartette, "The Bridge," brought the exercises to a close, and with the benediction the vast concourse of people dispersed.

THE MONUMENT FUND CONCERT.

The audience, which gathered at Simpson Auditorium at the benefit concert in aid of the G.A.R. monument fund last evening was not as large as it should have been considering the talent engaged and the object for which the concert was given. Several hundred people were present, however, and the receipts will go some way toward swelling the fund. The concert was under the direction of the popular musicians, Mr. and Mrs. Modini-Wood, who were assisted by some of the best talent the city affords. The opening overture "The Bohemian Girl" was played by a string orchestra. Messrs. McQuillen, Wachtel, Gardner, McQuillen, Modini-Wood and Mussel, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. W. D. Larabee, put the audience at once in a proper musical mood to enjoy the feast which followed. Mr. and Mrs. Modini-Wood led off in a duet, "Una Notte a Venezia," which brought out tremendous and long-continued applause and H. C. Portway followed with a vocal solo, which was well received.

The piano solo by A. J. Stamm was a triumph. It was played to a string and piano accompaniment, but every note rose perfect and distinct above the others of six pieces—at times soft and delicate as a whisper of distant bells, then rising to a loud crescendo.

The vocal solo by Mrs. Jones, wife of Capt. Albert Jones, and her sister, Mrs. J. G. Scarborough, were exquisitely sung and the harp solo by J. Musso delighted the audience. As his skilled fingers swept the strings the responsive chords filled the auditorium with their sweet yet delicate music.

F. W. Wallace sang a rollicking sailor song with a dash and verve suggestive of a whiff of the sea breeze.

Mrs. Modini-Wood's sweet voice was heard in two solos, the last being the patriotic "Star-Spangled Banner." She generously responded to an encore, also, and even then the audience was loath to let her go.

Mr. Modini-Wood also sang a solo, and W. C. Barber gave a fine solo with trum-pet quintette accompaniment. Encores were demanded and accorded with almost every number and when at 10 o'clock the last song was sung, an exceedingly well-satisfied audience poured out of the auditorium. Mrs. Larabee, the faithful co-pianist, is deserving of something more than a word of praise for her excellent work, and to Mrs. Modini-Wood, the lovable daughter of the Nation, the gratitude of the "boys in blue" will be extended for her generous assistance in furthering this enterprise of erecting the granite shaft which is a monument to their loyalty.

FELTON AND DE YOUNG.

A Correspondent's View of the Senatorial Contract.

There Was no Written Agreement, but a Verbal Understanding.

How Col. Otis Came to Write Out His Memoranda.

The Change in the Situation Brought About by the Adoption of the Recent Platform at Sacramento — Some of the Possibilities.

[Los Angeles Correspondence of the Stockton Mail.]

Los ANGELES, May 27.—The southern metropolis has again moved up into prominence because of the publication of the Felton-DeYoung compact. That is to say, Los Angeles is the dating point for the statement first published in a Sacramento paper a few days since, but as a matter of fact the entente was concocted in San Francisco, and it is dollars to green apples that it came from the Chronicle office, for Candidate DeYoung is the only man Col. Otis's statement could, possibly help, though that it has done so is very much of an open question.

I have taken some pains to get at the true inwardness of this business for the Mail, and my investigation leads up to an absolute knowledge that there was a clean-cut understanding between Felton and De Young that in case the latter would step aside for the time being, two years later Mr. Felton would not only be a candidate for the office, but agreed to stand in and help the ambitious editor in his aspirations for the exalted position.

No documents to this effect were signed. It was simply a verbal compact between man and man, and there was more than one witness to it.

The question has been raised as to why Col. Otis should be called upon to write out the terms of this agreement so long after the events had occurred.

I am advised that it was first of all because Col. Otis is a square man who likes to see other men square, and if they are not, so to speak, he hopes to make them so by pressure.

He was a witness to every phase of the Senatorial fight when Mr. Felton was elected. He was equally friendly and most favorably inclined toward both men, and had a hand in bringing them up to the agreeing point.

But events began to show that Mr. Felton had forgotten, or was forgetting, that bond he had entered into, and to show all parties at interest that there was at least one man who had not forgotten it, Col. Otis wrote out the statement, not for publication at any time, but as the memorandum of mutual friend who desired see faith kept.

As has been printed, four copies were made.

One each was sent to Editor De Young, Senator Felton and Col. J. P. Jackson of San Francisco. The fourth copy Col. Otis retained. Now mark you, that it is months since that memorandum was placed in the hands of the people named above. All of them or any one of them has had ample time in which to correct Col. Otis if he were ever.

There has nothing so far been printed showing that the statement was not accepted as one of absolute fact by all concerned.

The people here who know Col. Otis best, and who claim to have heard from him immediately after Senator Felton's election the story as told in the document referred to, say there is no question about its truth down to the most minute detail.

But here comes in the fine hand of the proverbial smart politician.

Mr. De Young thought apparently that Col. Otis had made a cannon for him with which to blow Mr. Felton's reelection boom into smithereens. He held quiet as long as possible, and then, directly or indirectly, gave out the memorandum or its contents for publication as though it came from Los Angeles, throwing upon the author of the memorandum the odium, if there was to be any, of having made it public.

Will the result prove to be a Russell Sage bomb experience?

It looks that way.

The situation has been materially changed by the adoption of the recent platform at Sacramento. The State is in for a big fight on the railroad question. William H. Mills, one of the brightest and brainiest men in the service of the great corporation, is to manage the legislative contest and see that anti-railroad men don't go to Sacramento if the court knows itself. The southern end of the State is to have a Senator. It would have had one now but for lack of material at the proper moment.

The action of De Young in regard to the memorandum can, in the author's view, have no other effect than to make him look the part of the man who wrote the paper.

This clears the atmosphere and gives the south a chance to get in and make its fight for a southern Senator.

Who will be the man?

Already a number of alleged statesmen are keeping from under tall trees and other exposed points for fear lightning may strike them. The way they look up into the clear sky and shudder for fear something in the shape of a great big boom is going to give them a biff in the midriff is heart-breaking. There are oceans of them, but real, genuine Senatorial timber is mighty scarce down this way. If I am an eagle, I can fly with wings are in a somewhat embarrassing condition.

Up to my writing of this letter I do not think a newspaper in this end of the State has made a suggestion as to the proper man for the emergency, but I am going to say that Henry T. Gage, a bright lawyer of this city, is the man you are likely to hear much of in this connection before the next Legislature meets.

Henry Gage is an ideal candidate, seen from the people's standpoint.

Whether he will suit the great powers that rule in California politics I would not undertake to say, but as he is brave, clean, able, and a rascal, he ought to suit everybody. Gage was a delegate to the convention that nominated Harrison and has great local celebrity as a lawyer. It is the opinion here that had Gage and Steve White been defending Judas Iscariot or the thief on the cross, not only would the accused have been let off with a verdict of not guilty, but they would have secured a verdict against their accusers for defamation of character. Although of different politics, these two lawyers usually work in harness together in big criminal and civil cases and they win nearly every time.

Gage cannot be more than 35 years old, has a positive character, has large wealth and can make a representative in the Senate and an honor to it.

He has a lot of strong friends who admire him for his sturdiness and sagacity, and those in the South best posted about matters of politics say: "Keep your eye on Henry Gage, for he is a coming man."

But there is another man talked of down here who may get into the medes in the person of E. F. Spence, president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles.

Of course it would be impossible to discuss candidates for the Senate without ringing in the name of a plutocrat.

It is very doubtful if Spence has the following here that Gage has. He is a rich man, but there is a great kick among Republicans already because of the millionaire club at Washington, consequently he is scarcely considered as being a possibility, for although he has plenty of cart-wheel dollars that he can lay his hands on, it is the general opinion that he would decline to buy the place. He is an Irishman, but not one of the pugnacious, tread-on-the-tail-of-me-coat kind, an old California and was elected delegate-at-large to the Minneapolis Presidential mill by the convention recently in session in Stockton.

The status will keep the present Governor of California from being a candidate, but he doubtless has seen enough to know that he wouldn't have any more show for the office, anyway, than he has to be reelected Governor.

Mal. Bonebrake has had such bitter experiences recently with politics and politicians that it is not believed he will make a rally for the job at Washington, although it will be remembered that his name was mentioned in connection with the place when Felton was elected.

At this writing there are no other statements that can be considered possibilities, but it is quite safe to say that one of the men mentioned in this letter will be elected to the Senate next winter, for William H. Mills is dead sure to see that the Republican Legislature, not too strongly anti-railroad, is elected.

MRS. B. B. WILSON.

The Lady Claims that Bryant Crandall is Her Husband.

Mrs. B. B. Wilson, who has achieved some notoriety as the friend of Bryant B. Crandall, the Buffalo (N. Y.) dead man who was brought to life by Chief Glass after being dead six years, visited the Times' office, yesterday afternoon and asked to be allowed to make a statement.

"The papers," said Mrs. Wilson, "have done me a great injustice by insinuating that I am simply the mistress of the man who was taken to Buffalo yesterday. If his name is Crandall I know nothing about it. I married him in San Diego five years ago on the 11th of next August. I had known him but six months when we were married and he was ranching in Lower California. He spent much of his time in San Diego and has always been a kind husband to me. He is a perfect gentleman and I cannot believe that he has done anything wrong. I am confident there is a lot of malice in the stories.

"When we were married he was carrying on a large correspondence, but it was closed as soon as we were married, and I am confident that he has not communicated with any one in Buffalo since that time. He never attempted to conceal himself. He used to come to Los Angeles whenever he chose and did not seem to fear arrest. No, I have no children by him and I do not know whether he has been divorced from Mrs. Crandall or not, if, indeed, he was married to her.

"I never heard of Mrs. Howland, who is spoken of as the woman who found him and will claim the reward. There may be such a person, but I know nothing about her."

Criminal Notes.

The Police Courts will have their hands full today, as there are a number of petty criminals to come before the courts.

Only three drunks were gathered in by the police yesterday. There were a number of drunks on the streets, but they were quiet and the police allowed them to make their way to their various homes.

Yesterday morning Coroner Weldon was called to Norwalk to hold an inquest on an old man named Alexander C. Vallier, who was found dead in his bed yesterday morning. Deceased was 85 years old and a married man. The jury found that he died from heart disease.

Last night Mrs. Tischbousier, the woman who had trouble with a professor named Hebler, who lives next to her, a few days ago, called at the central station last night and lodged a complaint against her husband. She stated that he left her Saturday, and last evening he returned and took her little eight-year-old boy away. She wanted an officer to assist in finding the child. Later in the night she learned that Tischbousier took the child to his wife's sister, where he left it, but Mrs. Tischbousier could not locate her sister.

It looks that way.

The situation has been materially changed by the adoption of the recent platform at Sacramento. The State is in for a big fight on the railroad question. William H. Mills, one of the brightest and brainiest men in the service of the great corporation, is to manage the legislative contest and see that anti-railroad men don't go to Sacramento if the court knows itself. The southern end of the State is to have a Senator. It would have had one now but for lack of material at the proper moment.

The action of De Young in regard to the memorandum can, in the author's view, have no other effect than to make him look the part of the man who wrote the paper.

This clears the atmosphere and gives the south a chance to get in and make its fight for a southern Senator.

Who will be the man?

Already a number of alleged statesmen are keeping from under tall trees and other exposed points for fear lightning may strike them. The way they look up into the clear sky and shudder for fear something in the shape of a great big boom is going to give them a biff in the midriff is heart-breaking.

There are oceans of them, but real, genuine Senatorial timber is mighty scarce down this way. If I am an eagle, I can fly with wings are in a somewhat embarrassing condition.

Up to my writing of this letter I do not think a newspaper in this end of the State has made a suggestion as to the proper man for the emergency, but I am going to say that Henry T. Gage, a bright lawyer of this city, is the man you are likely to hear much of in this connection before the next Legislature meets.

Henry Gage is an ideal candidate, seen from the people's standpoint.

Whether he will suit the great powers that rule in California politics I would not undertake to say, but as he is brave, clean, able, and a rascal, he ought to suit everybody. Gage was a delegate to the convention that nominated Harrison and has great local celebrity as a lawyer. It is the opinion here that had Gage and Steve White been defending Judas Iscariot or the thief on the cross, not only would the accused have been let off with a verdict of not guilty, but they would have secured a verdict against their accusers for defamation of character.

Although of different politics, these two lawyers usually work in harness together in big criminal and civil cases and they win nearly every time.

Gage cannot be more than 35 years old, has a positive character, has large wealth and can make a representative in the Senate and an honor to it.

He has a lot of strong friends who admire him for his sturdiness and sagacity, and those in the South best posted about matters of politics say: "Keep your eye on Henry Gage, for he is a coming man."

But there is another man talked of down here who may get into the medes in the person of E. F. Spence, president of the First National Bank of Los Angels.

Of course it would be impossible to discuss candidates for the Senate with out ringing in the name of a plutocrat.

It is very doubtful if Spence has the following here that Gage has. He is a rich man, but there is a great kick among Republicans already because of the millionaire club at Washington, consequently he is scarcely considered as being a possibility, for although he has plenty of cart-wheel dollars that he can lay his hands on, it is the general opinion that he would decline to buy the place. He is an Irishman, but not one of the pugnacious, tread-on-the-tail-of-me-coat kind, an old California and was elected delegate-at-large to the Minneapolis Presidential mill by the convention recently in session in Stockton.

The status will keep the present Governor of California from being a candidate, but he doubtless has seen enough to know that he wouldn't have any more show for the office, anyway, than he has to be reelected Governor.

At this writing there are no other statements that can be considered possibilities, but it is such a small number of them that it is not worth while to go into them.

PASADENA.

Memorial Day Exercises Marred by an Accident.

A Street Car Overturns and Injures Several People.

The Programme Rendered at the Tabernacle.

Pasadena Lays Out Duarte—Mr. Blair Pleasantly Surprised — Personal Notes — A Batch of Brevities.

But one thing happened in Pasadena yesterday to mar the pleasure of the Memorial day exercises, and that was an accident which, although serious enough, has its bright side, for the reason that no one can understand why it was not more serious and even fatal in its results.

As is generally known, transportation to the Mountain View Cemetery was afforded by the Painter line of street cars. The crowd was handled expeditiously, and all were landed at the cemetery safely, and in time to witness the ceremonies. Those conversant with the use of the land knew that this spot was about three miles north of Pasadena, and at a considerable higher altitude. It took hard pulling on the part of the horses and mules to make the trip up, but nothing besides gravity was necessary to bring the cars home again. Hence, as has been the custom, the live stock motive power was switched to horses, and the street car, which had been driven to the station, was driven back to the car stables located a short distance below the Painter Hotel, and distant a mile or more from the cemetery.

About 11:30 o'clock a train of two cars, which had been called into service for this occasion, started on the down trip with Mr. Kishbaugh as conductor and Mr. Way at the brakes. Supt. A. J. Painter, of the city line of cars, was standing at the entrance, giving special directions to the manner of running. The brakeman has long been in the employ of the company and is esteemed one of its most faithful and trustworthy men. All went well for the first half hour, but when the horses were loosened up a bit and the cars took on additional speed in order to get over a slight rise in front, at the only place where there is an embankment the forward car suddenly and without warning left the track, and rolled over on its side on the west of the rails. The rear car, twisted round of the track, but maintained its upright position. For a few moments confusion reigned supreme, and had it not been for the cool headed work of several people, particularly among whom were Mr. Mankell and Mr. Kishbaugh, a stampede from the cars would have done more injury than did the tip-over. The rear car was stopped, and their attention was given to extricating the occupants of the forward car from their unfortunate positions, in which work Brother Daney of the Salvations, although considerably smaller than his comrade, distinguished himself. Some were found more or less injured, and these were quickly provided with conveyances which bore them home. The track was soon cleared and the rest of the day's work was done.

The reporter made a careful investigation yesterday afternoon as to the number of persons injured. Miss Antonio Much, who resides at the corner of San Pasqual street and Main avenue, was the most unfortunate. Her right leg was broken under the ankle, her right leg is badly bruised about the knee and some of the upper ribs were fractured as the result of a heavy weight falling upon her chest. Mrs. Danbury had a severe shock, but her few bruises she suffered are no injury. Mrs. Dunton was considerably bruised, as was also Mrs. Bartram and Mrs. Lewis, whose residence is on Cypress street. Others were bruised somewhat, but not seriously.

The news of the accident was quickly spread about town and the most improbable reports were heard. A crowd of people soon congregated at the spot which delayed matters generally.

The cause of the accident is believed to be the railings, which is what is more probable as the track was a trifle too wide for the cars of the other line. Mr. Painter took Mr. Way to the cemetery especially to run the cars down, a duty he has performed satisfactorily for a long time past. Only when the cars had run down did he notice the empty cars down over the track without applying the brake at all. While some of the passengers say that the cars were running too fast for safety, the most reliable opinion is that they were not running so fast at the time of the accident, but did not exceed ten miles an hour. Mr. Kishbaugh says he has frequently run cars down Lake Avenue at a much higher speed. This makes the accident all the more tragic, as it is difficult to place the blame on any one, and it happened, moreover, at the only place on the line where there was a bank for the car to topple down. Mr. Painter was much grieved over the accident, and said that the majority of the day, seeing that those who were hurt received proper medical attention, and doing all in his power to make them comfortable.

HOW THE DAY WAS CELEBRATED.

Memorial day was ushered in by clouds and a heavy fog in the morning, and although the sun failed to appear no dampening effect was noticeable on the exercises, which were carried on most successfully. Most of the business houses and residences were decorated with flags and bunting, and business was generally suspended, so that everyone could take part in honoring the soldier dead.

The procession for the cemetery was formed on Colorado street shortly after 9 o'clock by Marshal Brown. At the head was the Pasadena Band, followed by Phil Kearney Camp, S. V. John F. Godfrey. Post came next, bearing at the head the colors of the 10th U. S. Cavalry. The procession was followed by ladies of the Relief Corps and citizens generally, and was headed by the military boys. Upon reaching the drill grounds the veterans deposited their mementos, a prayer was offered by A. Codd, and a few words by the Commander. Owen, when the crowd, what part could get in, surged in the opera house, where the following exercises were rendered:

Music by the choir, in charge of Prof. F. W. A. Wright.

Prayer—Rev. E. E. Bennett.

Music by the choir.

Benediction—Memorial post, Miss Maretta Thomasette, under the direction of Mrs. Taylor.

Address—"To the Flag." George Brown, Solo—Mrs. A. C. Abbott.

Closing hymn, "America," by the military band.

Benediction—Rev. J. W. Van Cleve.

The decorations at the opera house were simply, beautifully and tastefully arranged by the men's Relief Corps, who deserve great credit for their efforts to make their part a great success. A resolution of thanks will be passed in a day or so, as soon as the G. A. R. can have a meeting.

Case of George Mullally has been appealed. Oswald and Ed. Phelps, sureless on Mullally's bond. The ground of defense is that Mullally was not present the day the prosecuting witness swore to having fought with his son.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Scarce spent Sunday with friends in Colton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mustard spent Sunday with friends in Riverside.

H. W. White has arrived in the city from Springfield, Mo., his son and daughter having been spending the winter here.

The funeral of Mrs. John D. Cason took place from the Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 2:30, where a large congregation had gathered to attend the services. The pall bearers were very handsome and the services impressive. The procession was over five blocks in length.

The big reserved who is to supply the Carrizo tract has been completed a day or two and is turned in. It holds over 600,000 gallons.

The movements exercises were supplemented by an evening meeting at the Tabernacle. A crowd was in waiting when the doors opened at 7 o'clock and half past, when the entire edition was filled. The pulpit platform was beautifully decorated with flags and appropriate floral emblems. A miniature cannon occupied a prominent position and a large banner in the rear bore the following mottoes:

Our fame's eternal camping-ground.

Their silent tents are spread.

And glory guards with solemn round.

The bivouac of the dead.

On the platform were seated the past commanders of the post, the officers of the Sons of Veterans and Woman's Relief Corps, City Councilmen, members of the different churches and a quartette composed of Messrs. Kyle, Cole, Parker and Smith.

A brief address of welcome was made by George T. Downing, post commander, after which the audience joined in singing "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Prayer was offered by Comrade Rev. E. C. Crawford. The quartette then sang "Tenting on the old camp-ground," the whole part being taken by Mr. Smith. This was followed by "The Star Spangled Banner," Mr. Kyle singing the solo. The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. J. W. Phelps. The speaker's remarks were stirring, patriotic and eloquent and highly appropriate to the occasion. Justice could not be done there without publication in full, which space did not permit. Mr. Kyle responded to "He Wouldn't Sell the Farm" in splendid style and he was not excused until he had responded to an encore. The quartette sang "Brave Boys Are They," after which the congregation joined in singing "Blest be the tie that binds." The conclusion was pronounced by Comrade L. James.

HE WAS SURPRISED.

Mr. Alexander C. Blair, who has just returned from an extended business trip East was given a very pleasant surprise on Sunday by some of his friends. Mr. and Mrs. Blair make their home at the residence of Mrs. Mary McGee on South Marengo avenue. A call was made on Mrs. Blair, who was in an event which Mr. Blair didn't know a thing about until the guests had assembled in the house. The affair passed off most happily, the enjoyment being shared between Mr. Blair and those who had assembled to welcome him home. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Houser, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin, Miss Ada Louise Franklin, Mrs. Mosher, Miss Libbie Mosher, Mr. and Mrs. Salisbury and Miss E. Dunn of Los Angeles; J. B. McCune of Boston and Mrs. McCune of Mange and Prof. Alexander of Chicago.

DUARTE KNOCKED OUT.

At 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning Company Post, G. A. R., to the number of fifty formed in line and marched to Army Hall, where the Waterman rifles joined and acted as escort to the veterans, leading them with their burden of flowers and sad memories to the cemetery, the Grand Army drum corps marking the step. The procession was joined by many citizens in carriages. At the cemetery the impressive service to the dead was performed and the veterans told off in squads to decorate the graves of those who have preceded them across the frontier.

The line was again formed and the procession returned to the pavilion, where a basket luncheon was spread. At 2 o'clock the affair was over and the marchers began. These consisted of the ritualistic exercises by the G.A.R., a recitation by Miss Damron, music by the quartette, sermon by Rev. Herron, poem by Capt. G. W. Nichols and an address by E. C. Seymour. After singing "America" the meeting adjourned.

The Unitarian was occupied at fever head from start to finish. There were plenty of bets made at the start, for the Duarte men came on the field accompanied by Mr. Ross of Los Angeles, whose tall and willowy form had figured prominently in the match. The "Shorty" Miller made a phenomenal catch of a fly ball out in right field, and ended with 16 runs to Paesa's credit, while only 8 of the Duarte aggregation had made the circuit of the bases.

NEWS AND BUSINESS

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER OFFICE, LOS ANGELES, MAY 30, 1892.—At 5:07 p.m., 29.86. Barometer registered 29.85, at 5:07 p.m., 29.86. Thermometer for corresponding hours showed 58° and 66°. Maximum temperature, 69°; minimum, 57°. Character of weather, cloudy. Rainfall for past twenty-four hours, .02; for the season, 11.79.

INCLINATIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—Forecast for Tuesday for Southern California: Fair, except preceded by showers on the southwest coast and in the mountains; south to west winds; stationary temperature, except warmer in the western portion.

A feast of fat things was spread for many hungering souls yesterday at the First Baptist Church, as Messrs. Simpson and Fuller, Mrs. Simpson and Miss Sheppard told their simple heart-rending story of the love of God and His Christ dwell in believing hearts and live out His life in them. Today the great theme of the world's immediate evangelization in order to hasten the Lord's speedy return is the growth of the spiritual interest and rich blessing still higher. Capt. R. Kelce Carter is expected to arrive from San Francisco this morning to lend valuable aid. At 7 o'clock in the evening Miss Sheppard will be singing for young ladies in the lecture-room. General meetings at 10 a.m., 3 and 7:30 p.m.

The Santa Fe road will sell tickets to the Republican convention, to be held in Memphis, for one fare the round trip, good for three days. Tickets will be on sale June 1 and 2. One fare for the round-trip will also be made to the Democratic convention to be held in Chicago, and tickets will be on sale June 15 and 16. For further information, call at the ticket office, No. 120 North Spring-street.

The following have been appointed as a committee from the Chamber of Commerce to assist in the reception of the distinguished visitors from Boston who are to arrive in the city this evening: J. J. H. Bunting, J. A. Riley, G. G. Johnson, E. L. Blanchard, R. H. Brown, George McAlister, I. N. Reed, B. Sens, H. Silver, J. Kenney. The committee will meet at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The conductors and gripmen on the Grand avenue cable cars are the grateful recipients of a kindly courtesy on the part of the Y.W.C.A. last Sunday morning in the shape of handkerchiefs, etc., with an appropriate scripture quotation attached. The attention was much appreciated by these faithful public attendants.

There was a small wreck on the Southern Pacific Sunday night between Seven Palms and Indio, on the eastbound overland, had three passengers on board for New Orleans, and one of the trucks gave way, causing the westbound overland to wait eight hours before it could pass.

All teachers and people who are at all interested in the advancement of education and culture will appreciate the plan of the Y.W.C.A. to present a lecture on First street. Admirably suited for an insurance and loan business or other first-class business.

The Salvation Army is preparing for another "big go" this evening. There will be a street parade headed by the army's brass and bugle band, and at 8 o'clock there will be a musical festival, led by Adj't. and Mrs. Kernohan.

The meetings being carried on at the Christian Church are being attended with much interest by our people, and great good is being done. Up to and including last evening there were forty-nine additions to the church.

The annual meeting of the Flower Festival Society will be held in the parlors of the home, No. 195 East Fourth street, on Wednesday, June 1, at 2 p.m. A full attendance is expected.

CATALINA YACHT CLUB.

The Opening Day Celebrated by a Trip to San Pedro.

A Pleasant Sail on the Bay, Concluding with a Dance at the Wilmington Hall—Those Who Were Present.

It was a jolly party that left the Arcade depot at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a special train, on the sides of which were the words "Catalina Yacht Club Special." It was the opening day of the club, which was organized a few months ago with a membership which contains the names of many of the leading people of Los Angeles.

At San Pedro the yachts La Poloma, Lizzie Bell, Rambler and T. Ellis, gaily decked with colors and bunting, were hoisted by the members of the club and invited guests with Capt. Banning in charge of the first, Lieut. Meyler the second, John H. Schumacher the third and Dick Lacy the last. After a three hours' sail on the bay the yachts were again turned into San Pedro harbor, the delighted party were taken ashore and conveyed by special train to Wilmington. Here all were soon doing ample justice to an elegant repast that was waiting in the Wilmington Hall, prepared under the personal supervision of Mrs. L. C. Meyler. After supper the floor was cleared and dancing was indulged in to the strains of Romandy's orchestra till 10:30 o'clock, when the entire party was brought back to Los Angeles by special train.

The affair was one of the most successful in a social outing way that has ever occurred in Los Angeles, and will be long pleasantly remembered by those who were fortunate enough to be present. There was an air of informal sociability about the whole affair which was especially refreshing to the invited guests of the club, which certainly could not have had a more successful train.

Much credit is due to Capt. and Mrs. Banning, Lieut. and Mrs. Meyler, and Capt. David Welt, who kindly turned over his pilot boat, Lizzie Bell, to the club free of charge. The whole thing passed off with much elan and will undoubtedly do much to encourage the healthful pastime of yachting in Southern California. Following is a list of those present:

Capt. and Mrs. Hancock, Banning, Lieut. and Mrs. Meyler, Maj. W. C. Furrey, Mr. and Mrs. Wyncup, Mr. and Mrs. H. Holliday, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Banning, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Gibbons, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Vall, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Burnett, Mrs. Preuss, Mrs. C. Schumacher, Mrs. MacGowen, Mrs. Childs, Mrs. Harvey, Misses Gephard, Cole, Sullivan, Lacy, Tillie Presidents, Tufts, Hough, Wills, Elderkin, Patton, Lee, DuPuy, Clark, Russell, Stewart, the Misses Shorb, Miss Butler, the Misses Bradbury, Misses Ward, Frances Graff, Gornes, Jones, Bell, Virginia, Orr, Widdemeyer, Col. J. G. C. Lee, Dr. Wills, Dr. McGowen, Dr. Chapman, Dr. Radbaugh, Messrs. R. Chadwick, F. Thomas, W. Bishop, C. Ducommun, H. Latham, L. M. Graff, E. Kellam, Wm. Wesley, P. Schumacher, F. Schumacher, J. H. Schumacher, Ed Tufts, L. Grant, H. D. Burk, E. A. Elliott, J. Bradbury, William Kerckhoff and J. Will Lyons.

THE WIVES OF BARBA.

A Valley of Abysses Where Queer Customs Prevail.—(Chicago Herald.)

In the valley of the Barca in Abyssinia there is, according to a recently returned traveler, a community where the women, without holding meetings of agitation of any kind, have emancipated themselves. All the women work hard while the men are idle, but that is nothing to the wife. At the least unkind word she turns the husband out at night, in storm or rain, and he can't come back until he makes amends by the gift of a cow. The wife considers it a duty to abuse the husband, and if she were well enough to show her love for him in life or grief at his death he would be killed by her tribe. The wife, without any reason, may strike her husband and go, taking with her one-third of the joint possessions. The husband, unless he is traveling, may not live out of his tent, but the wife may go to her parents for a year and annul for the time of her own marriage. In all of this the secret of emancipation toward which women are blindly struggling is hidden. The emancipation of the wife comes only when she entirely supports her lord and master, thus rendering herself indispensable to his comfort. And possibly emancipation of these terms might not be desirable in the present regime of society.
